Centum Financial Group is one of the largest national mortgage broker brands in Canada. Since 2002, we have continuously grown year after year thanks to our focus on expert advice, technology, and prioritizing our clients.

We are looking for a resourceful student for an 8-month co-op term.

Knowledge of C# programming is required for this position. A previous co-op term or project experience involving C# will be considered in meeting this requirement. Candidates will be expected to demonstrate their ability to write code in C# during the interview process.

The candidate should also have familiarity with:

- ASP.NET MVC and .NET Core
- A solid understanding of object-oriented programming3
- JavaScript and CSS (Bootstrap) for front-end development
- Object-relational mapping (ORM) technologies such as Entity Framework, along with LINQ querying and SQL Server querying
- Design and implementation of RESTful APIs, integration with third-party services
- GitHub - at least at the school project level

We operate in the mortgage and real estate industry, both of which are highly regulated. As such, security, privacy, and data protection are critical priorities in this job.

We are open to onboarding the right student earlier - either full-time or part-time - starting in August. From September through April, the position will continue as a full-time co-op placement.

While there is flexibility with this role, you are expected to work from our downtown office 2-3 days a week, as agreed upon with your manager.
