Job Description

GoodMorning.com is a Canadian pioneer in the creation and growth of award-winning direct-to-consumer brands. Over the last decade, we have delivered hundreds of thousands of beloved products to customers across North America. And we've created an exciting, ownership-driven culture perfectly suited to intelligent, results-driven individuals. If you're hungry to disrupt stale consumer industries - with innovative new brands and products of exceptional value that customers love - then GoodMorning.com is the place for you.

Description

A creative designer and skilled front end web developer who utilizes current technologies to create beautiful and engaging websites that convert and satisfy the needs of our customers in the realm of e-commerce and publication properties.

Responsibilities:

- Working with stakeholders and other developers to ensure that project requirements relating to digital products are thoroughly specified
- Producing low-fidelity wireframes, conversion-focused mockups, and responsive cross-platform-tested final designs
- Planning, designing, writing, modifying, integrating, and testing HTML/CSS
- Utilizing PHP to build complex front-end web layouts in which content and design have been decoupled
- Building and customizing client side UI components using Vue (or similar frameworks), often leveraging an existing component library to accelerate development and ensure consistency
- Delivering a high volume of design projects on time, within budget, and in accordance with project and company objectives

- Adhering to design best practices to ensure incredible quality and error-free production of digital products according to brief
- Collaborating with the systems team in creating and implementing digital solutions for our web properties

- Testing work product across various media to ensure objectives are met

Job Requirements

Requirements:

- Post-secondary degree or diploma in web design in progress
- Possess a deep passion for web design and delivering an optimal user experience
- Experience with HTML, CSS, and content management systems (like WordPress)
- PHP (WordPress/WooCommerce) and JavaScript experience preferred, or a willingness to learn
- Familiarity with at least one modern JavaScript framework (such as Vue, React, or Svelte) will be considered a strong asset - or a demonstrated interest in learning one
- Firm understanding of version control in both theory and practice
- Proficiency in Adobe Creative Suite and other creative tools
- Proficiency with building mobile-friendly designs and web-optimized creative assets

Citizenship Requirement      N/A
