We're looking for a Intern, Software Developer - For Entrusts Citizen Remote Identity Verification team (CIDV) - Hybrid in Ottawa

We are seeking a motivated Software Developer Intern to join our team for an 8-month term. This is an excellent opportunity for a 4th-year Computer Science or Software Engineering student (or 3rd-year with relevant experience) to gain hands-on experience in modern software development practices.

- We offer flexibility
- We offer a diverse work environment
- Futureproof your career with a job in information security

How you will make an impact:

- Collaborate with the development team to design, develop, and maintain software applications.

- Work on projects leveraging .NET Core and C# for backend development.
- Contribute to AI development initiatives, including integrating AI-driven features into applications.
- Utilize GitHub Copilot and other modern tools to enhance productivity and code quality.
- Participate in code reviews, testing, and debugging to ensure high-quality deliverables.

Why Should You Apply?

- Leader in the security industry
- Friendly, supportive & knowledgeable teams
- Opportunities for on-the-job training
- You'll help secure identities!
