Start Date: January 5, 2026

About our Vancouver Office

Located in the heart of downtown Vancouver, between the Pacific Ocean and the Coast Mountains, Teck's Corporate Office sits in one of Canada's most culturally diverse cities.

Surrounded by world-renowned nature and globally inspired cuisine, the office brings together many of Teck's corporate functions - all working toward Teck's purpose of providing the essential resources the world relies on.

For this exciting position, we are specifically targeting students who have a background in business. Reporting to the Lead, Land Logistics, North America, the Logistics Co-op will support the logistics and service requirements for our mine products, inbound materials and other Teck operations. They will help ensure that the requirements are in place and are current, and consistent with company and customer needs

If you are not currently located in the area of this co-op position, you must be willing to either commute or relocate to the surrounding area for the entire duration of the co-op term.?You must also currently be a student enrolled in a Canadian post-secondary institution and will be enrolled throughout the duration of the co-op term (you will also be returning back to the post-secondary institution once the co-op term is completed). Proof of a valid work permit will also be required, if applicable.??

Don't miss out on this opening to be part of one of Canada's leading mining companies and join our team!?

Why consider Teck Resources Limited for your Co-op Placement?

At Teck, we offer more than just a job - we provide a comprehensive student experience comprised of relevant, hands-on work, vibrant social activities, extensive networking opportunities, and rich professional development. With captivating projects set against stunning backdrops, a culture of inclusivity and collaboration, and boundless opportunities to learn, grow, and have fun, joining us means embracing a fulfilling and dynamic co-op adventure.

In addition to excellent compensation, Teck co-ops receive a variety of advantages including but not limited to:

- Financial assistance to help with travel costs and co-op fees
- Opportunity to develop technical skills and gain practical experience while applying academic knowledge to real-world mining operations and projects
- Enjoy mentorship and guidance from experienced specialists in their respective fields
- Receive primary consideration for professional positions upon graduation

Key Responsibilities

- Be a courageous safety leader, adhere to and sponsor safety and environmental rules and procedures
- Develop and act upon relevant critical metrics and scorecards for key suppliers and for use by internal customer groups, including compilation of critical metrics for operational and monthly reporting
- Support internal customer groups in monitoring, arranging, and coordinating Teck product shipments, ensuring external customer needs are met and shipment issues are addressed optimally and promptly
- Coordinate rail fleet service activity related to inbound and outbound Base Metals railcar fleets (including railcar covers) and produce reports as the need arises, including rail fleet analysis
- Build and maintain route and rate data, including route, vessel, rate input and shipment cost documents as required in SAP for refined metals, concentrates, chemicals and by-products and provide readily accessible information and reports for the Logistics team and various client groups
- Provide support to projects and analytical studies as assigned from time to time

Pay Range: CAD $4,000 - $5,100 per month

The actual amount offered is determined based on the successful candidate's relevant experience, skills, and competencies and considers internal equity.
