Job Description

Job Description

We are looking for an intern to support the development and maintenance of our internal desktop trading tools. You'll work on C#/.NET WinForms/WPF applications that interact with market data sources, improve application reliability, and deliver new features for the trading team.

Responsibilities

Desktop Applications

- Maintain and enhance WinForms/WPF apps.
- Improve schedulers and background services for robustness and stability.
- Package, sign, and distribute applications (MSIX or similar).

Integration & APIs

- Connect applications to external APIs (e.g., Interactive Brokers TWS, Yahoo Finance).
- Optimize data-fetching pipelines and error handling.

Testing & Documentation

- Debug and fix crashes, scheduler issues, and performance bottlenecks.
- Write setup guides and documentation for long-term maintainability.

Eligibility

Eligible applicants must be:

- Enrolled or graduated from electrical engineering, software engineering, computer science, or a closely related program.
- Eligible to work in Canada.

Job Requirements

Requirements

Must-Have Skills

- C#/ .NET development (WinForms or WPF).
- Exposure to SQL Server or PostgreSQL for backend data.
- Experience with packaging and deployment (MSIX, ClickOnce).
- Strong debugging and troubleshooting skills.
- Familiarity with Git/GitHub version control.

Nice-to-Have

- Experience with TWS API (Interactive Brokers).
- Logging/telemetry integration in desktop apps.
- Knowledge of multi-threading or high-performance data processing.

Citizenship Requirement N/A
